KML Geoscience: Install and First Surveys Complete

Kangaroo Metals Limited (ASX: KML), a diversified exploration and mining company, through its alliance with Heli Charters Australia, has confirmed the installation of the state-of-the-art aeromagnetics and radiometrics has been successfully completed and certified. At present seven (7) geophysics projects across KML tenement regions have been completed and data will be analyzed and additional targets covered in the following weeks.

KML Geoscience has quoted for a further four (4) regions for outside clients and interest in the service has been expressed from PNG and North Queensland clients for work this calendar year. Formal marketing of the service to additional clients will commence shortly.

"We are very please in the installation and the quality of the results. Data collected at 50 metre line spacing across KML tenements has already paid dividends with 5-10 metre accuracy allowing precise drill locations to be selected and therefore efficient use of our resources"
